

A decorative border consisting of a series of small, repeating geometric patterns, possibly a repeating 'Z' or similar shape, forming a rectangular frame around the title.

HEAVEN SIGHTINGS

A simple horizontal line with small arrowheads at both ends.

Angels, Miracles, and Glimpses of the Afterlife

COMPILED BY JAMES STUART BELL

About the Contributors

Rose Alexander serves her Savior through writing from her home in Ohio.

Jan Apilado has recently found a new purpose in encouraging widows, as she has lost her beloved husband, Corky. She is also a prayer warrior and women's speaker who lives in the Cascade Mountains.

Dee Aspin is the author of two devotional books, Lord of the Ringless and Dogspirations. Dee enjoys writing human- and animal-interest stories. She has works published by CBN, Barbour, Revell, Guideposts, and more.

Paul F. Bauer is a retired police lieutenant, a licensed professional counselor, and the author of 40 Days in the Desert: A Devotional Guide for Uniform Services Personnel.

Carolyn Roth Barnum coordinates "Write People" at Wesley Village, Wilmore, Kentucky. Her stories have appeared in Grace Publishing anthologies, Woman's World, and Reminiscence magazine.

About the Contributors

Laurie Allred Boyd was born in 1960, and she is a facilitator of success who writes with the goal of empowering others to grow in their relationship with Christ.

Wanda J. Burnside is a teacher, the author of sixteen books, a poet, and the publisher of the Lamp Newsletter. She has been married since 1972 to Simmie Lee Burnside, Jr.

Sharon Padgett Campbell and her husband of fifty-six years live in a retirement community. She enjoys scrapbooking, making jewelry, and singing in a choir. She has two children and five grandchildren.

Ronald C. Daniel is a retired hospice chaplain in Georgia who graduated from Luther Rice College & Seminary with a degree in biblical counseling and religion.

Midge DeSart is a church musician and the author of a women's Bible study, Maintaining Balance in a Stress-Filled World.

Barbara Ferguson's experience so influenced her life as a young Christian that she has had a passion to know God better and share Him with others for over sixty years.

Elizabeth Garrett established Polish Point Editing in 2016 to provide author coaching and editing services. Her creative works, both fiction and nonfiction, have been published in numerous publications.

Susan Guerrero has been writing for most of her life. She has a journalism degree. She has written more than 2,700 posts for her blog, Writing Straight from the Heart.

Caryl Harvey is a writer and amateur living-history interpreter. She and her husband were foster parents for sixteen years and adopted three children and have four biological children.

About the Contributors

Melissa Henderson and her husband, Alan, live in the Low Country of South Carolina. Melissa enjoys writing, reading, and volunteering. Visit her blog at www.melissaghenderson.com.

Judith Victoria Hensley is a retired middle school teacher, weekly newspaper columnist, photographer, blogger, and speaker. She has authored Appalachian folklore, middle school chapter books, and Christian fiction.

Sandra L. Hickman is an Australian Christian author, poet, and songwriter. She is also a missionary, having served in Africa, India, and China, and is the Australian ministry leader for the Lamp Newsletter in Detroit, Michigan.

Sharilynn Hunt teaches others about prayer through New Creation Realities Ministry, www.ncrministry.com. She has published stories in numerous anthologies, including Chicken Soup for the Soul: Best Mom Ever! and Life-Changing Miracles.

Chynna Laird writes from her home in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Ruth Smith Meyer enjoys observing life as she continues to learn and mature. Widowed twice, she shares the understanding and growth with which she has been gifted.

Craig Nelson works for Scheels and enjoys taking in Husker football games.

Peggy Park has three published books: The Power of the Lamb's Blood, Unshackled, and Grandmother's Journal. Her writing credits include articles for various Christian magazines.

About the Contributors

Hailing from Tucson, Arizona, Alyssa Roat is a freelance writer and a professional writing major at Taylor University.

Fran Sandin is a retired registered nurse, organist, grandmother, and author, who enjoys community Bible study and traveling with her husband, hiking, and flower arranging. Visit her website at www.fransandin.com.

Ingrid Shelton is a retired teacher and librarian. She has had numerous stories and articles published in the CHICKEN SOUP FOR THE SOUL series and Guideposts. She loves gardening, walking, reading, and sharing the Good News.

C. F. Sherrow lives in the Denver area. She practiced medicine as a physician assistant for twenty-three years and is now a counselor and writer. Her first novel, Dark Heritage, was released in 2017.

E. V. Sparrow writes from her home in Rocklin, California.

Kelly J. Stigliano has been a speaker and writer for over thirty years. She and her husband, Jerry, enjoy life in Orange Park, Florida. To learn more, please visit www.kellystigliano.com.

Ronica Stromberg is the author of four children's books and writes for various Christian magazines.

Steven Thompson is the father of four adult children and a grandfather of five. He freelances from his home in northern Iowa.

Delores E. Topliff lives near Minneapolis. She loves Jesus, family, grandchildren, friends, mission trips, travel, and her small farm. She also enjoys writing and teaching college courses.

About the Contributors

Roberta Updegraff is an author with Guideposts. She enjoys volunteering in a Honduran orphanage, traveling, reading, quilting, and researching genealogy.

Judith Vander Wege wants to help hurting people get into an intimate relationship with God and experience His love and healing. She and her husband attend a First Reformed church.

Elfriede Volk and her husband have traveled the world as volunteer missionaries and evangelists since 1977. Last year their daughter Karen joined them, preaching her first evangelistic series in Kenya.

Kay Spivey Walsh lives in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia with her husband, a horse, and a dog. She teaches at James Madison University and leads the Shenandoah Christian Writers group.

Susan M. Watkins, award-winning author, wrote for The 700 Club television program. She is featured in multiple publications and on CBN.com. She has also written for bestselling author Max Lucado.

Barbara Wells is a published author, international speaker, radio personality, and member of AWSA (Advanced Writers and Speakers Association). For more information, visit www.barbarawells.webs.com and www.facebook.com/barbarawellsauthor.

Martin Ziegner has been a general dentist for over forty years in the western suburbs of Chicago. He has two adult children, three dachshunds, and a parrot.